

UPMC Cumberland Woods Village

This intensive green roof, built above a large parking garage, beautifies the grounds of UPMC's Cumberland Woods Village, a continuing care retirement community in Allison Park. Completed in 2010 and designed by Fahringer McCarty Grey, Inc. the green roof is unique in that it uses irrigation and landscape plants typical of an at-grade planting, with green roof innovations such as lightweight soil and man-made contours, making the space seem more like a park than a green roof. Plantings include trees, grasses, and wildflowers.
